

Beaumont Watson

Marketing Services Snapshot

Whether you are the agency providing marketing services or the client there are a number of key issues which it is essential you address in the Marketing Services Contract to provide each party with certainty as to its respective responsibilities, rights and risks:

If you would like a review of your current Marketing Services Contract or need such documents to be drafted to ensure your business is identifying and managing risks related to the procurement or provision of such services feel free to contact us for a costs estimate.